District Nursing Society to Hold Fund Raiser for Adult Day Health Care Center

MILLBURY - The success of a District Nursing Society fund raising project will pave the way for a fully equipped Adult Day Health Care Center in rented space at the Millbury Housing Authority Congregate Housing Unit now under construction at the end of Colonial Drive in Millbury.

Officers, board members, and volunteers of the District Nursing Society met on Wednesday, January 18, to prepare for the Fund Raising Kick-off set tentatively for Thursday, February 2. The Adult Day Health Care Center is an innovative concept that will offer an alternative to 24 hour long term institutional care. It will also provide answers to questions such as, "How do we support family members who are trying to provide care and supervision to elderly and disabled loved ones at home, but who also must work during daytime working hours?"

Because the elderly population is continuing to grow, the Center promises to become an increasingly important part of the community in the future. The Center will service Millbury, Sutton and other towns to the south and west of Worcester.

The Center is designed to provide for needed health care, restorative therapy and socialization for clients during daytime hours, allowing families to work or to have a couple of days a week free from caretaker responsibilities.

The Center is the answer to many problems that develop when supervision of the elderly or disabled becomes necessary. The astronomical increases in health care can put such care beyond the reach of many families.

This facility, which will initially accommodate 24 clients, will provide programs for 6 to 8 hours on weekdays. Because most people attend less than 5 days a week, between 30 and 40 participants weekly could benefit.

When at capacity, there will be between 12 and 14 full and part-time staff members, including a registered nurse who will be in attendance to assure that each client's individual health care plan is properly implemented. Such a plan might include assistance with bathing in the new, special bathing unit, physical therapy exercises, occupational therapy retraining, and a host of other services which the client might need.

Clients must meet three requirements: 1. they must have a medical or mental dysfunction that involves one or more physiological systems and requires nursing care and/or restorative care. 2. They must require skilled services and/or assistance in activities of daily living. 3. they must attend the program two, full, six-hour days a week.

The day care services will not be offered exclusively to the elderly but will also be available to families who care for a disabled member or to Alzheimer's victims, thus making the facility one which truly services the entire community.

As Stephen Walinsky, who is co-chairing the fund drive with Selectman Richard LaBonte of Sutton, said to the volunteer solicitors, "We need complete community support because this facility will be a great benefit to the entire community."

Jane Jung, President of the District Nursing Society, explained that the facility will meet the changing needs of health care. She said that the center can help families avoid premature institutionalization by providing a level of care designed individually for each client, and in some cases can actually extend the years of independence.

The Center's goal is to become self-supporting within a full year. In order to meet this goal, start-up money is crucial to cover staffing costs, furnishings, equipment and supplies. The Society has set a fund raising goal of $100,000 to meet these needs.

Connecting with Senior Citizens

On Thursday, January 19, Suzanne Gardner, representing the Millbury School Connection, visited the Asa Waters Mansion. She encouraged Millbury seniors to become involved in the educational process of young people.

Teachers Carole Chiras and Ginny Auciello suggested that a contribution could be made by sharing information about hobbies. Some suggestions were stamps, coins, propagation of plants, storytelling, model building, wood crafts, travel slides, Millbury's past, and Christmas customs around the world.

Other general requests for help included library work, monitoring of the computer room, sewing, and math tutoring.

The Millbury School Connection volunteers worked over 1,000 hours in Millbury schools last year. We are already approaching that figure this year.

If you are interested or have any questions, contact Linda Tift at 865-5241 during the school day.

Millbury has many talented and active seniors. We need you!

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Board Addresses Variety of Issues

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Chairman Jude Cristo called the January 17 meeting to order at 7 p.m. Warrants were signed and minutes for the January 3rd meeting were approved, 5-0.

Annual Town Report

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase began his weekly report by stating that the bids for the Annual Town Report and Finance Committee Report were in each board member's packet for review. He noted that the low bidder was Athol Press who was also the low bidder last year.

The board unanimously approved awarding the printing of both reports to Athol Press.

Wheelabrator

Cristo asked Chase to update the board on Wheelabrator's response to the question of whether a statement in a recent letter indicated the maximum tonnage the town could drop at the resource recovery plant was 11,315 tons per year.

Chase said he had spoken to a representative of Wheelabrator who said that the letter referred only to free tipping maximum and that the town would have to pay for any additional tonnage.

Housing Partnership

Millbury's Housing Partnership voted to support the maximum single family homes permitted by the Zoning Board of Appeals for affordable housing and market price homes planned by Bengston Estates Ltd. on Bengston Lane. Developer Benjamin Miles, one of the principles, sought support for 50 homes from the Housing Partnership. Miles is in the process of appealing the ZBA's limit of 35 homes through the state hearing process.

Mutual Aid Agreement

Chase reported that Fire Chief Tom Nault has been approached by the Shrewsbury Fire Department for a mutual aid agreement. He noted that the agreement was not specific. Adams questioned the need for changing the agreement as the town fire department already has a standard agreement which is used with other surrounding communities.

Cristo asked Chase to inform Nault that the board suggests he get back to Shrewsbury and discuss using the standard agreement.

Police Budget

Following a review of dates to remember, the board briefly discussed the police budget for the next fiscal year with Chief Ron Stokowski. Most of the budget was level-funded with a slight increase in salary for a part-time clerk to work an extra day per week at 6 1/2 hours per day. Two new police officers' salaries were also included.

Cristo noted that the department now has a complement of 19 police officers and, with a new chief, would have 21, plus one clerk and four dispatchers. Overall, the police budget shows an increase of $46,112 for the next fiscal year.

Stokowski also emphasized a need to replace the department's radio console which was forecasted for replacement six years ago. Although Stokowski did not have a price for the replacement, he estimated the cost to be around $40,000.

Stokowski also indicated that there is a need to look at space problems in the department.

The board approved forwarding the budget to the Finance Committee on a 5-0 vote.

Solid Waste Advisory Committee

At 7:30 p.m., the board met with Richard Gauthier, appointed designee of the Solid Waste Advisory Committee. Gauthier reported that the advisory committee had some concerns with rubbish being dumped along roadways. "The town clerk indicated there was a state law with a fine," Gauthier said. "If it does exist, we will get back to you to see if a town article can be developed with the approval of the Board of Selectmen and the Board of Health." Gauthier noted that if the fine is stiff enough it might discourage disposal of rubbish on the roadways. "The police department can't do much without a bylaw," he added.

Gauthier ended the discussion by reporting that Peter Boria was elected chairman and John Walker vice chairman of the Solid Waste Advisory Committee.

Appointments

Turning to Old Business, the board approved the appointment of Kathy Klein, a member of the Conservation Committee, to be the local Water Resources Management Officer.

Cristo informed the board that William Caron wanted it to be known that he was retiring, not resigning, from the Board of Health. According to Cristo, Caron would like to be involved with the Hazardous Waste Committee.

Chase said he was awaiting a recommendation in writing for the appointment of Lillian Sheehan to the Millbury Arts Council.

Miscellaneous

In other matters, Chase said no word has been received from the State on the appeals hearing for the Millbury Avenue Reconstruction Project bid.

He also said that advertising for bids for the heating, ventilating and air conditioning system at the town hall had been placed in the Central Register by the consultant and will also be advertised locally when the specs are received.

Cristo said he has a plan for consideration for the use of the Center School which he will bring forth at a later date.

Public Works Study Committee

Chase said there was one volunteer for the Public Works Study Committee that was established at the Special Town Meeting.

Cristo suggested that Chase check with Anna Lewandowski, chairwoman of the Planning Board, and Dick Luikey, chairman of the Conservation Committee, to see if they would serve on the new committee as they had spoken up at the special town meeting for further study for the proposal.

Budgets

The board considered the Town Auditor's budget request for level funding at $16,000 and voted 5-0 to move it on to the finance committee.

The board also approved, on a 5-0 vote, to pass the gas and diesel budgets on to the finance committee. Chase said the budget shows an increase of $5,000 over last year because of a built-in increase to cover expected increases in gasoline prices proposed by the governor. The budget amount requested is $53,000.

Chase also said that the town warrant for accepting articles for the annual town meeting would close at the end of January. He noted that no requests for articles have been received as yet from the Highway or Fire departments.

Bicycle Race

No action was taken on a request from the Lions Club to hold a bicycle race until a recommendation is received from the Chief of Police and the Safety Officer.

Lights

A discussion of the pedestrian light timing brought a suggestion from Selectman Roland Lachance to increase the time by 5 seconds to allow more time for pedestrians crossing at the center light at the intersection of Main and Elm Streets.

According to Chase, prices are being checked for the installation of a flashing light at Grafton and Riverlin Streets.

Transfer Station Building Committee

Richard Dwinell, Chairman of the Transfer Station Building Committee, requested a meeting with the selectmen and his committee to establish procedures for payment of bills to the contractor who has started excavation work at the landfill. Dwinell noted that several members of the committee had not served on a building committee before and would require information on establishing procedures for the payment of bills. The board agreed to meet with the building committee at the conclusion of next week's selectmen's meeting.

Cristo then asked Dwinell about the possibility of acquiring more land at the landfill site. Dwinell indicated that it was possible the town could acquire a two acre piece of land from Buck Brothers that abuts the present landfill site in exchange for town land near Buck Brothers.

Earl Chase said that there did not appear to be any town owned land near Buck Brothers. It was suggested that Chase and Dwinell review the layout.

Cristo suggested the possibility of acquiring the two acres at a reasonable price through negotiations.

In response to a question from Lachance, Board of Health Chairman Frank Piscitelli said that approximately 11 acres would be capped once the landfill was closed. He also said that Millbury was on a list for a state grant to assist in the capping and had a chance for a grant if the other towns on the list don't meet the requirements. Twenty-four other communities are ahead of Millbury on the list.

Blackstone Valley School Committee

Jay Hanratty, Millbury's representative on the Blackstone Valley School Committee, presented a proposal to the board seeking their support for a different system of election of school committee representatives for the Blackstone Valley Regional School District. He explained that an article would have to be placed on the town warrant.

Hanratty said that several alternatives had been looked at by the present school committee because of a state mandate that was enacted as a result of a court ruling involving a regional school committee on the South Shore.

Under the ruling, according to Hanratty, candidates running for the regional school committee would now be required to run district wide in 13 communities. A

Elm Street Addition Draws Strong Comments from Planning Board

MILLBURY - The Planning Board's January 9th meeting was intended to be primarily a working meeting in which the board could accomplish some housekeeping, including the preparation of their budget.

Hayward Glen

After reading correspondence and approving vouchers, the Board discussed the Hayward Glen subdivision off Millbury Avenue. Board members expressed displeasure with the fact that construction has begun on Phase II of the development before developer Russell Bedard has posted his performance bond for this phase of the project.

Chairwoman Anna Lewandowski read from the minutes of the October 13th meeting at which board member Arthur Moore made a motion which would have released two lots in Phase II subject to the posting of a performance bond.

After a discussion of past problems which the board has had with the builder, a motion was made to hold a public hearing to rescind the planning board's permit for Phase II of the project. The motion was to hold a public hearing to consider rescinding the permit to construct Phase II if a bond of "acceptable determination" was not received before notice of the meeting was published.

(Prior to publication of the public hearing notice, the Town received $2,229.24 from Bedard for the town's cost for bonding. Town Planner Dave Hulseberg has recommended that the board take no action until town counsel has reviewed the contracts.)

Rte. 146 Structure

Ronald Gargulinski came before the board to discuss the construction of a metal structure off Rte. 146. The issue, according to Hulseberg, was whether the board wanted to recommend to the Building Inspector that he issue a cease and desist order for the property until a site plan has been completed or whether Gargulinski could continue construction of the building without a site plan approval. The shell of the building is now erected.

Gargulinski explained that he is building the 60x100 foot metal structure for speculation purposes and, as yet, has not rented the building. He said he has no idea who, what kind, or how many tenants will occupy the building.

Gargulinski asked if he would have to have a site plan if he rents part of the building as an office and uses the rest of the building as a warehouse.

Lewandowski said that since Gargulinski does not know how the building is going to be used, the board must anticipate that the total area of the building will be used, thus necessitating a site plan.

A motion was made to allow Gargulinski to continue the construction and, in the meantime, to file for a site plan review.

37 Elm Street

Although not on the agenda, Francis and Stephen Venincasa appeared before the board to discuss expansion of a building at 37 Elm Street.

According to Hulseberg, a building permit was taken out for an addition to the building with the intention of using the expanded area for office space. Hulseberg explained that, under the zoning by-laws in a business district, they (the Venincasas) were within their rights and needed no variances to use the space for office use.

Hulseberg noted that the Venincasas changed their plans and began putting in efficiency units, which require several variances as well as a multi-family permit.

Stephen Venincasa explained that he and his father were originally going to put an addition on to their office building and, when they did, they were told that the addition could not be successfully joined as was planned. Consequently they changed the plans for the roof which effectively added another usable floor to the building. Venincasa said they had planned to occupy the addition themselves, but with the change in the building market, they no longer need the space and would like to convert some of the offices into efficiency apartments. According to Stephen Venincasa, when market conditions improve, they plan on changing the apartments back to office space.

Stephen Venincasa said that he will apply for the necessary permits and, if denied, will continue the project for office space.

Lewandowski expressed concern that too often the board is approached after construction has already begun.

"I thought the process began and ended with the Building Inspector," representative would be elected from each town.

Adams took exception to the possibility that one candidate could receive more votes from towns in the district than a second citizen from the same town who received more votes from the town he or she resides in. He said that, theoretically, his vote could be voided if this happened. He said he would support Hanratty's request for an article for town meeting but could not support the new system of electing a school committee representative.

Cristo noted that a similar situation exists in the election of Worcester County Commissioners.

Hanratty indicated that the school committee selected this proposal as it would keep the status quo and keep the committee as it is presently.

The board voted 4-1, with Adams opposed, to support Hanratty's recommendation.

On a 5-0 vote, the board approved Hanratty's request to place an article on the town warrant.

New Business

Under New Business, the board unanimously approved drainlayer license renewals for Casa Builders and Developers and Noel Developers.

A special license for the sale of liquor was granted to the St. Anne's Guild of Assumption Parish for a 50's dance to be held on February 4, on the church property. The vote was 4-1 with Selectman Donald Gauthier abstaining.

The board unanimously approved Adams suggestion to write a letter to Wheelabrator acknowledging their efforts to help the town out during the recent problems with overage.

Cease and Desist Orders

Gauthier reported that the Building Inspector has sent out Cease and Desist orders to the following:

1. R.F. Bedard, Hayward Glen, two foundations, no permits.

2. Louis Fantasia, F&G Construction, no special permit for earth removal on Wales Street.

3. Reel People, flashing sign in window, no permit.

Prior to adjournment, Lachance asked how the Town Planner could have received a raise since it wasn't reflected in the line items of the budget.

Craig Coppola, Chairman of the Personnel Board, pointed out that the Town Planner was given more hours of work but not an increase in salary.

MHS to Hold Winter Carnival

MILLBURY - Winter Carnival at Millbury High School will be celebrated with a new addition to the usual competitive events.

Three teachers, Roger Desrosiers, Pamela Graves, and Frederick Wadsworth have added academic competition to the regularly scheduled sports, skills, and artistic events. During the academic section of the carnival, each grade, 8-12, will enter two five-member teams. One team will represent the college students, and one will represent the career students. Each team will compete in two rounds: an individual round in which each member will answer questions to earn points for the team, and a team round in which the captain will answer for the entire team. Correct answers on the team round will enable the team to compete for bonus questions.

One phase of the academic section for the Winter Carnival has already occurred. Before the Christmas vacation, the ten teams met in the High School Auditorium during the school day to be tested with questions from all of the subject areas. The teams were able to win one third of the total allotted academic points during the event. Grade eight won first place and gained 40 points.

The second academic competition will take place on the evening of February 16 during the week of Winter Carnival. The evening schedule will allow friends, family, and supporters of the contestants to attend. The teams will be able to win 80 points, or two-thirds of the total allotted points, during this second event.

The first competition was challenging, exciting, and fun. students demonstrated spirit, and mastery of a wide spectrum of knowledge. Hopefully, the attendance at the second event will show strong support for academic achievement.

The following students, including alternates, are members of the Academic Competition.

MS READaTHON

SHREWSBURY - Local youngsters have joined 2,500 young readers across Massachusetts in the MS READaTHON to help fight multiple sclerosis. By getting sponsors for every book read, these remarkable readers have read a total of 50,000 books and raised over $110,000 for national research efforts and to provide support for the 6,000 families affected by MS in Massachusetts.

Wade Boggs, Red Sox third baseman, whose sister has multiple sclerosis, and Dick Albert, Channel 5's meteorologist, honorary chairmen of MS READaTHON, offered special congratulations. "It's always amazing to me how many kids will give of their time to read in this program," Boggs said. "Last year, Massachusetts kids raised over $400,000 by the end of the school year, and I know they'll do it again. Great going kids."

"This is my sixth year working with the MS READaTHON," Albert said, "and it's been exciting to watch it grow. Some of our top readers have been doing the READaTHON for five and six years now. Those kids and their parents and teachers really deserve our congratulations."

Each child who participates receives a pizza slice coupon from Papa Ginos as well as Massachusetts Adventures coupons with free passes to the Mayflower, the Boston Tea Party ship, Hammond Castle, the New England Science Center in Worcester, the Basketball Hall of Fame, the New England Sports Center, Bay State Cruises, and the Boston Bolts Soccer team. PLANNING

Stephen Venincasa said. "I didn't realize that the Planning Board got involved with every addition that went in."

Taking issue with Venincasa's statement, Planning Board member Terry Burke Dotson commented, "I would just like to say that I don't buy it - the fact that you don't know what you're doing. The building permit was originally granted to you for office space, and you took it upon yourself to change it to apartments. You're no longer building under that permit."

"They're not apartments yet," Venincasa replied. "Until you get an occupancy permit it's nothing."

Dotson made a motion that the board uphold the Building Inspector's Cease and Desist Order and allow the applicant to apply for a special permit.

Venincasa then asked how his application to continue work differed from the Gargulinski application.

Board member Ann Kniskern noted that the building permit was issued for an office, conference room storage, under two story building with parking in the rear. "It's now three stories and the plumbing is in for apartments," she said.

Venincasa said he would go before the Zoning Board of Appeals for permission to construct apartments. If he is denied, he said he will return to his original plan to put in offices. Francis Venincasa asked that they be permitted to finish putting on the brickwork on the outside of the addition.

Lewandowski said that allowing them to put the brickwork on the building's exterior would make it that much more difficult should the Venincasa's be ordered to tear the addition down.

Stephen Venincasa maintained that they would not have to tear the addition down because they were not seeking a variance for height.

Dotson said that she felt it was the responsibility of the board to uphold the decision of the building Inspector who has issued a cease and desist order.

Stephen Venincasa argued that Hulseberg is the one who brought it to his attention that he would need a site plan review for parking. He said that they have had a parking lot there for many years which was improved because of the construction. "I always had that parking lot; I still have the same parking lot; I have adequate parking space," he said. "I'm not changing anything from what I've had there for the past eight years that I've been there."

Hulseberg explained that what is required now is a site plan review even if the Venincasas are only putting in offices. If they decide to put in apartments, according to Hulseberg, they will need a variance, a multi-family permit, and a site plan approval.

Dotson then argued that to allow them to continue the brick work would be tantamount to saying the board had given them permission to construct the addition. "The more they do on a building the more it looks like people are approving it all the way through and the harder it is to change things," she said. "The thing that's wrong about it is that they're not new to this game. Let's just stop it right now. The Building Inspector, in his wisdom, issued a cease and desist and I believe it's our responsibility to back him up on it. Let them go through the path that they're supposed to go through, and then come back to us. Let them do it the right way."

Stephen Venincasa then withdrew his request for any action and said that he would go to the building inspector and return to the Planning Board for their consideration of a variety of issues.

Aroun' The Town & Golden Agers Update

By Lillian C. Sheehan

Amazing, but true - January 21 and clear roads and sidewalks prevail! January 21 to February 19, Aquarius is governed by Uranus, planet of eccentricities. Aquarians are independent thinkers who often bring new ideas to their work. Humanitarian by nature, they may direct their energies towards trying to make the world better. They may seem unpredictable at times, but tend to be very loyal and devoted.

MILLBURY GOLDEN AGE CLUB: Members of the club are reminded that they are invited to attend a performance by Trent Arterberry on Monday, January 30, at Millbury High School. There will be two performances, one at 9:00 a.m. and one at 10:00 a.m. (Please note: performance times have changed since they were first announced). Please contact Mr. Carmody at the High School (865-5841) if you are interested in attending. These presentations are made possible through funding from the Millbury Arts Council and the High School Improvement Council.

ST. BRIGID'S WOMEN'S CLUB: the March meeting of the club will be held at Calvary Monastery in Shrewsbury on Thursday, March 9, at 6:30 p.m. This will be an evening of recollection and will include supper. The cost of the meal is $10.50, checks may be made out to St. Brigid's Women's Club and mailed to Dorothy Dearnley, West Sutton Road, Millbury, MA 01527 as soon as possible. All reservations must be in by February 6, the latest!

Anyone driving their own car may go direct to the monastery for 6:15 p.m. Anyone needing a ride, please be at St. Brigid's parking lot at 6:00 p.m.

The February meeting of the Club will be held on Thursday, February 16, at 6:30 p.m. This will be a Pot Luck Supper and members will be contacted to ascertain the type of dishes needed. Members may bring guests.

Following the supper, an auction will be held with Mary Mulhane as auctioneer. New or good used articles will be welcome.

Sally Blake and Olive Buffone are Co-chairwomen, and they will be assisted by the following: Elizabeth Braney, Loraine Colarusso, Lucille Dunn, Phil Felice, Helen Hamilton, Aldona Karsok, Rita Larosee, Lorraine McKenney, Grace Leary, Carolina Pescheta, Rita Woodward, and Kitty Zemaitis.

WIT AND WISDOM

~ The unfortunate thing about constructive criticism is that nobody really appreciates it as much as the one who's giving it.

~ Anybody who thinks talk is cheap never argued with a traffic cop.

~ By saying little, some people acquire a reputation for knowing considerable.

~ You've reached middle age when pulling your weight is a real drag.

February Blood Pressure Clinics

MILLBURY - The District Nursing Blood Pressure Clinics for the month of February will be as follows:

Asa Waters Mansion, 123 Elm Street, February 7 from 8:30 to 11:00 a.m. and February 14 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Centerview Apartments (residents only) on February 16 from 1 to 2 p.m.

Colonial Apartments, Colonial Drive, February 23 from 1 to 2 p.m.

Linden Apartments, Pearl Street, February 15 from 1 to 2 p.m.

Stuarts Department Store, 132 Worcester Street, North Grafton, February 1 from 10 a.m. to noon.

All clinics are free and open to the public, except as noted. For more information, call 865-4373.

Meeting to Discuss Future of Route 20

MILLBURY - The Millbury Board of Selectmen, Planning Board and Route 20 Study Committee will meet on February 1 at the Municipal Office Building, 127 Elm Street, to address the future of Route 20.

All interested residents are invited to attend. Both short term and long term goals will be addressed. Specifically, the intersection of Greenwood Street, Route 146, Park Hill Avenue, Millbury Avenue and Route 20 will be addressed. The possible closing of Johnson Street on the northerly side of Route 20 will also be discussed.

Any resident having any questions on this matter should contact the Town Planner at 865-4754.

Rep. Moore Named to House Committees

UXBRIDGE - Representative Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge) has been named to two House committees for the 1989-90 Legislative Session by House Speaker George Keverian (D-Everett). The Uxbridge lawmaker was reappointed to the Committee on Ways and Means and was newly appointed to the House Rules Committee.

The Rules Committee is known as the "Speaker's Committee" since it is chaired by Keverian. As such, Moore will serve as an Assistant Majority Leader in the House during the coming year. Moore also held the post during the 1979-80 session under then Speaker Thomas W. McGee (D-Lynn).

The duties of the Rules Committee are to establish and recommend policy procedures for the House, to consider all orders, resolutions and petitions referred to it, and to consider reforms or revisions in the legislative rules. Moore has been active in Rules reform efforts for a number of years.

Moore is beginning his second term as a member of the Ways and Means Committee, which is responsible for considering all legislation affecting the finances of the Commonwealth. Moore said that he expects this assignment to be very active in view of the Governor's recently announced tax proposals and the state's fiscal crisis. He also said that he has urged Governor Dukakis to look for further state budget cuts before new taxes are considered by the Legislature.

Now entering his seventh term, Moore will also continue to serve as a member of the Joint Legislative Committee on Public Safety. This is his third term on this committee, which reviews legislation concerning the safety of the public, civil defense, firearms, fire laws, and motor vehicle laws.

In addition to the three standing committees, Moore is House Chairman of the Special Commission on Infrastructure Finance, and a member of the Special Commission on Tax Reform, the Special Commission on Growth Policy and the Special Commission on the Availability of Workers in Long Term Care. He also chairs the state's Blackstone River and Canal Commission and the Federal government's Blackstone River Valley National Heritage Corridor Commission.

Upon his appointment, Moore said, "I am especially pleased that the Speaker has placed his confidence in me by including me as a member of two key leadership panels. My continued service on the Ways and Means Committee as we deal with the state's fiscal crisis will offer me an opportunity to continue to fight for the needs of my district and of Central Massachusetts."

Moore represents the towns of Sutton, Douglas, Millville, Uxbridge and Webster.
